THE WAR CLOUD STILL HOVERS OVER EUROPE

Russia Courts Any Kind of Inquiry of North Sea Incident.

England is Said to Want to Stop the Baltic Fleet-- Other Versions of Affair.

THE HOPE OF EUROPE IS STILL FOR PEACE

London, Oct. 28.—The St. Petersburg correspondent says that Russia has agreed to an investigation being held at Vigo, where the Baltic fleet will remain until the conclusion of the inquiry. Twenty days are allowed for the investigation.

ADMIRAL GETS ORDERS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—It is stated that Admiral Rodjstvensky has been ordered to detain his ships at Vigo.

Paris, France, Oct. 28.—It is reported in diplomatic circles that England's real object is to have an excuse for stopping the Baltic fleet, and possibly bringing Germany and France into the Russian imbroglio.

It seems apparent that ample opportunity has been afforded England for accepting Russia's assurance of reparation, without the demonstration of force that has been made apparent on part of England. If this should prove to be true, it will go a long way to plunging Europe into the war that was predicted by many when the Russo-Japanese conflict began.

It is freely predicted that England, war or no war, will find some sort of excuse to stop the Baltic fleet.

HOPE FOR SPEEDY SETTLEMENT.

London, Oct. 28.—The Russian embassy issued the following statement today: "We are in constant communication with the British government and as a result of these communications the embassy hopes there will be a speedy and satisfactory settlement. The whole aspect of the situation has decidedly improved."

INDICATES PEACE.

London, Oct. 28.—The cabinet held a long meeting today and as the ministers left at the close, they were chatting and laughing, indicating a peaceful settlement of the dispute with Russia had been reached. Just before meeting, Count Benicendorff, the Russian ambassador, had a long conference with Lord Lansdowne. No official announcement of the result of the meeting was given out.

HEADED WESTWARD.

London, Oct. 28.—A dispatch says that the British cruisers, Lancaster, Suffolk, Doris, Hermes, Endymion and Thesus left their heading westward. It is believed their destination is Tangier. Another dispatch says that the cruisers have gone to Vigo.

SWEDEN PROTESTS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—A protest has been received from the Swedish government regarding the firing upon the steamer Aldebaran by a Russian cruiser last Friday night.

ENGLAND WILL DO HER DUTY.

London, Oct. 28.—The Times, in a leading editorial today, declares that full redress will be obtained from Russia, and that England will do her full duty.

London, Oct. 28.—Reuter's states that England's demands upon Russia are that unless satisfaction is given concerning the punishment of officers of the Baltic fleet who fired on the fishermen, the fleet will not be allowed to proceed beyond Tangiers.

RUSSIA WANTS INQUIRY.

London, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the Russian minister of foreign affairs, Count Lamsdorff, has notified the British ambassador, Sir Charles Harding, that Russia desires to immediate inquiry at Vigo regarding the firing on the British fishermen by the Baltic fleet.

RUSSIA INSISTS IT IS TRUE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—The naval general staff publishes the following two dispatches from Rodjstvensky:

"The North Sea incident was caused by two torpedo boats advancing to attack without lights under cover of darkness against the vessel leading the detachment. When the detachment turned on its search light and opened fire the presence of several small steamboats resembling steam fishing boats were discovered. The detachment endeavored to spare these and ceased firing as soon as the torpedo boats were out of sight.

"The English press is indignant because the torpedo boats left by the detachment on the spot until morning did not aid the victims. Now there was not a single torpedo boat near the detachment and none was left behind; consequently the vessel remaining near the small steamboats was that torpedo boat which was not sunk, but only damaged. The detachment did not aid the little steamboats because we suspected them of complicity on account of their obstinately cutting into the order of positions of our vessels. Several of them showed no light and others only very late."

Second dispatch:

"Having met several hundred fishing boats, the squadron showed them every consideration except when they were in company with foreign torpedo boats, of which one disappeared, while the other, according to the fishermen's own evidence, remained among them until morning. They supposed it was a Russian boat and were indignant because it did not assist the victims; but it was foreign, and remained until morning, seeking the other torpedo boat, its consort either to repair damage or through fear of betraying itself to those who were not its accomplices. If there were also on the spot fishermen imprudently dragged into the enterprise I beg in the name of the whole squadron to express my sincere regret to the unfortunate victims of the circumstance under which no warship, even in a time of deep peace, could have acted otherwise."

THE FISHERMEN DENY.

London, Oct. 28.—Rodjstvensky's statements are declared at Hull to be absolutely inaccurate. The fishermen declare it can be proved that there were no Japanese torpedo boats in the vicinity of Dogger Bank. They assert that the Baltic squadron was thirty miles out of its proper course, with the result that the vessels steamed into the midst of the trawlers; and this is the only foundation, they assert, for the allegation that the transport Anatol was surrounded by unknown vessels.

COPENHAGEN'S STARTLING REPORT.

Copenhagen, Oct. 28.—A correspondent of the Associated Press learns that the Danish ministry of marine was informed that several ships were chartered by the Japanese at Hull and intended to attack the Russian squadron in the North Sea. The Russians were informed of this. Marine authorities here credit the report.

The Danish ministry was officially informed that thirteen Swedish vessels had been chartered by the Japanese to attack the Russian squadron in the Baltic. A Danish cruiser and torpedo boat watched the vessels so closely that their approach to the Russian squadron was impossible.

While thus engaged the Danish torpedo boat Havsten had a narrow escape, the commander of the Russian battleship mistook the Danish torpedo boat for the enemy and fired a blank shot. The quickness of the torpedo boat in displaying its flag saved her. This happened at night time. When the captain of the torpedo boat boarded the battleship he found large quantities of ammunition piled ready for use. This incident was reported to the Danish marine minister at the time. The Danish warships acted as police for the Russian squadron until after the latter reached the North Sea.

BRITISH DECKS CLEARED.

Gibraltar, Oct. 28.—Ships of the British channel fleet cleared their decks yesterday afternoon. It is rumored the whole fleet, with the exception of the battleship Caesar will steam westward today with the alleged purpose of making a sham attack against the Rock of Gibraltar.

Several torpedo boats left Tangier fully equipped. Work at the arsenal is proceeding under high pressure. A division of the Mediterranean fleet, comprising six battleships, all the armored cruisers and twenty torpedo boats is expected to day.

BALTIC FLEET STILL AT VIGO.
Vigo, Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding the report emanating from Madrid, vessels comprising the Baltic fleet have not left port. It is reported the vessels will sail today, but this is doubtful, as repairs to the engines of some of the warships are uncompleted.

CONTROLS ALL.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Oct. 28.—A worship law has just been promulgated placing all the clergy and their properties under control of the government and orbi dis the entrance into this country of religious communities. The law declares that only Ecuadorians can be archbishops or bishops, and it forbids the establishment of new religious orders.

SENTIMENT AT PARIS.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The gravity of the Anglo-Russian situation excites the most serious consideration at the foreign office here and in governmental quarters generally.

Official advices from St. Petersburg indicate that Russia is desirous of making amends, but is not desirous of being forced to a precipitate conclusion.

A leading official said: "Russia does not want to be placed in the same category as Turkey, who is compelled to accept what the foreign powers dictate." The tone of the French press continues fairly calm, although all the papers agree that the situation is susceptible to the gravest possibilities.

GERMAN DIPLOMACY.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—The attention of German diplomacy is centered upon what the French government intends to do, or perhaps has already done, in the British-Russian affair. France seeks to prevent Great Britain from pushing her claims to a point where Russia will be humiliated, and is also advising Russia to offer adequate satisfaction immediately.

While most of the newspapers avoid editorial discussion, breathless interest is felt by the public regarding the developments of the next twenty-four hours. The press partly indulges in optimistic hopes, reflecting the government's views. Others, like the weighty Kreuz Zeitung, regard the situation as extremely grave, since the negotiations must proceed with unprecedented rapidity, because otherwise the Russian squadron will get beyond reach.

Great Britain's demands for the punishment of the guilty officers, while recognized as just, greatly complicates the situation for Russia, since yielding means the recall of the squadron for a

HOPKINSVILLE NEXT

K. of P. Lodge to Meet There-- Officers Elected.

Ten New Lodges in the State During the Year.

Franklin, Ky., Oct. 28.—Yesterday's contributions to the K. of P. home amounted to $2,000, increasing the fund to $25,000. H. C. Dumont, from the First district; A. C. Green, from the Second; and John C. Thompson, from the Third district, were elected members of the board of control of the home. The grand lodge, Rathbone Sisters, was organized as an auxiliary to this lodge. Louisville representatives filed a statement on the account of the cost of the biennial convocation held at Louisville, which showed $6,900 deficit. The lodge refused to pay any part of this shortage.

Ten subordinate lodges were instituted in the state this year, three new lodges of the Uniform Rank were chartered, and three defunct lodges were revived. Five hundred dollars was appropriated for the Uniform Rank drill next year.

Hopkinsville is the place and the second Tuesday in October is the time fixed to hold the next meeting.

Grand Lodge officers were elected as follows: Grand Chancellor, W. T. Scherman, of Carrollton; Grand Vice Chancellor, T. G. Stewart, of Winchester; Grand Prelate, M. H. McLean, of Covington; Grand Master of Exchequer, Jule Plummer, of Covington; Grand Master of Arms, George D. Young, of Louisville; Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, J. W. Carter, of Owensboro; Grand Insignier, O. H. Pollard, of Jackson; Grand Overtourner, C. P. Sanders, of Franklin.

long investigation.

Although war is not believed to be imminent, Great Britain's positive course and Russia's hesitation create a situation that may give France a deciding influence. Should France inform either government that hostilities in this instance would be a contingency covered by the Russo-French treaty, such an interpretation must affect enormously the relative attitude of Russia and Great Britain.

One danger of the situation is that Russia may be taking this occasion to test the reality of her alliance with France, whether indeed this alliance now is more than general good will. France has the strongest reasons for avoiding a test of the alliance, while Germany naturally would like to see the alliance prove nothing more than paper.

France is regarded here as having in M. Cambon, her ambassador in London, her ablest negotiator, and he is already striving to compose the differences.

So far as guarantees that no similar incidents will occur, Russia, it is believed here, is ready to offer assurances, and says that she can do no more.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER IS MADE PUBLIC

In Which He Explains to Gen. Tyner.

Says Tyner May Have Not Been Guilty of the Charge For Which He Was Tried.

GUILTY OF WRONG, HOWEVER

Washington, Oct. 28.—The letter which was sent to Judge James N. Tyner, assistant attorney-general for the postoffice department, in behalf of the president, in answer to one sent by the judge to the president, June 11, 1904, asking him to "right the great wrong" which he declared the president had unwittingly done him in using certain statements reflecting on his official conduct in transmitting papers to congress in connection with matters disclosed in Mr. Bristow's report, has been made public by Holmes Conrad, who has charge of the prosecution of the so-called frauds in the postoffice department. The letter is as follows:

"White House,

"Washington, June 24, 1904.
"Sir—I am directed by the president to say that your letter of the 11th instant, addressed to him, was received and referred to the department of justice for inquiry into the statements therein and for such report as the facts ascertained might appear to require.

"A report has been received from the department of justice and considered by the president, who further directs me to inform you that the facts disclosed in such report abundantly confirm the views as to your official conduct heretofore expressed by him in his message to congress, prepared after three indictments had been presented against you by a grand jury, and warrant the action, in your removal from office, and do not allow him to withdraw the expressions or annul the action. The president naturally shrinks from saying anything that will diminish any comfort you may have derived from the verdict of the jury, but he is advised that you were not tried for the wrong-doing to which he referred, but conspiracy with Barrett to do the wrong, which he is advised is a wholly different matter, as one may be guilty of wrong and not guilty of conspiring to do so. Yours respectfully,

"WM. LOEB, JR.,
"Secretary to the President."

AGENT IN PADUCAH.

W. D. Benton, of Louisville, a special insurance agent for the Sun Fire Co., England, was in the city today on business. He is looking over the inspection and reports of Inspector Barrett who made an electrical inspection here several months ago and never thoroughly completed it.

Gen Stoessel Said to Despair of Saving It.

The City Reported Suffering From Another Fire—Little Severe Fighting Is Reported.

LATEST FROM THE FAR EAST

Shanghai, Oct. 28.—It is reported here that Gen. Stoessel, in command of Port Arthur, has abandoned all hope of holding the port against the attacks of the Japs. It is said he sent a telegram to the czar saying, "I now bid you goodbye forever. Port Arthur will be my grave."

ARE WITH US.

Buda Pest, Hungary, Oct. 28.—In the lower house of the Hungarian diet Francis Kossuth, president of the independent party, introduced a resolution calling on the premier to urge Austro-Hungarian foreign minister to support any diplomatic action on the part of the United States tending to put an end to the bloodshed in the far east.

FOR BALTIC FLEET.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—Six more colliers have been chartered at Flensburg to transport coal for the use of the Russian second Pacific squadron.

AT PORT ARTHUR

Chefoo, Oct. 28.—A Chinese junk just arrived from Port Arthur brings the information that minor engagements are occurring nightly. Japanese shells found lodgement in several Russian war ships. The garrison aggregates ten thousand men, and is clothed in last winter's uniforms.

HEADED FOR EAST.

Madrid, Oct. 28.—A telegram received from Vigo states that the Russian fleet which arrived there yesterday, departed today for the far east.

PORT ARTHUR AFIRE.

London, Oct. 28.—A dispatch to Reuter's from Tokio says that it is reported there that the Japs have made another assault on Port Arthur, and during the assault a shell exploded in the magazine and the city is said to be in flames. The dispatch also says that the Russian battleship Sevastopol was damaged and a Russian cruiser sunk.

FLEET PASSES SOUTH.

Dover, England, Oct. 28.—Two cruisers and eight torpedo boats passed southward today.

HEARST REBELS

COMES OUT AGAINST THE DEMO- CRATIC MANAGEMENT.

New York, Oct. 28.—The tremendous outburst of republican enthusiasm at the Hay meeting has encouraged New York republicans, who predict that Parker's plurality in the city will not reach 75,000. That the democrats are frightened is shown by Parker's decision to stump, made after the official announcement that he would not reconsider his first intention of silence. The Parker itinerary in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut is not disturbing the Roosevelt managers.

Hearst's New York American yesterday contained a vicious attack on Cleveland, Olney and Belmont, and says the anti-trust campaign with these men on the stump is absurd. It declares that for every three republican votes Cleveland will gain, he will drive away a thousand good democrats. The article has caused a sensation in democratic headquarters.

A BIRTHDAY SUPPER.

Mr. John Sanders, of Eighth and Clark streets, celebrated his birthday last evening with a nice supper for a few of his friends. Those present were Patrolman John Austin and wife, Capt. John Slaughter and wife and son James, Jas. Vance and family. A nice time was spent and the guests wished Mr. Sanders many more birthday suppers.

THE CHARITY CLUB HAS REORGANIZED

Miss Emma Reed Resigned as the President.

A New Set of Officers Was Elected at Today's Meeting.

MUCH WORK IS PLANNED

The Charity club met at the Palmer House this morning at 10 o'clock, and organized for the winter.

Miss Emma Reed, who has been the efficient president for two years, handed in her resignation, and notwithstanding the great pressure brought to bear, refused to reconsider. The following officers were then elected:

Miss Faith Langstaff, president.
Mrs. Roy McKinney, vice-president.
Miss Ethel Morrow, secretary.
Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, treasurer.

New chairmen for the six districts were appointed, and it was decided that officers would only serve for one year after this, as the work is very arduous.

Mrs. John W. Scott was made chairman of the committee working from Kentucky avenue to Tennessee street.

Mrs. Will Minnich, chairman of the district from Seventh street to Rowlandtown.

Mrs. Fannie Allard, chairman from Tennessee to Broad street.

Mrs. John W. Keiler, from Kentucky avenue to Victoria Mills.

Miss Emma Reed, chairman of the Rowlandtown district.

Miss Myrtle Decker, chairman of the Mechanicsburg section.

The club will meet again on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Palmer House with the ministers of the city to plan for the winter work. This will be a public meeting and everyone is cordially invited and urged to be present.

A move is now on foot at Louisville to organize a state association of charities in order that the clubs in various cities may work in harmony, and accomplish more.

It is intended to hold a meeting in Louisville Monday and organize, but the local club has not yet been asked to act on the proposition.

It is thought that state organization can accomplish a great deal that is not now accomplished.

TO CUTICURA

The World Is Cuticura's Field,

Has Penetrated.

"I desire to give my voluntary testimony to the beneficial effects of your Cuticura Remedies. I have suffered for some time from an excess of uric acid in the blood; and since the middle of last year, from a severe attack of Eczema, chiefly on the scalp, face, ears and neck and on one limb. I was for several months under professional treatment, but the remedies prescribed were of no avail, and I was gradually becoming worse, my face was dreadfully disfigured and I lost nearly all my hair. At last, my wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies and I gave them a thorough trial with the most satisfactory results. The disease soon began to disappear and my hair commenced to grow again. A fresh growth of hair is covering my head, and my limb (although not yet quite cured) is gradually improving. My wife thinks so highly of your remedies that she has been purchasing them in order to make presents to other persons suffering from similar complaints, and as President of the Bible Women's Society, has told the Bible Women to report if any case should come under their notice when a poor person is so afflicted, so that your remedies may be resorted to."

Theatrical Notes

The Rogers Brothers will end their current New York run in "The Rogers Brothers in Paris" at the Liberty Theater Saturday evening, November 5th. The following Monday they will begin their annual tour of the principal cities, opening at the Chestnut Street Opera House in Philadelphia, where they will remain three weeks.

Klaw & Erlanger have arranged with E. S. Willard, the widely known English actor, to present "Lucky Durham" at the Knickerbocker Theater in New York the latter part of January.

Klaw & Erlanger's production of the latest Drury Lane spectacle, "Humpty Dumpty," will be given its premiere at the New Amsterdam Theater in New York Monday evening, November 14. The stages of five theaters are being used for rehearsals of the different parts of the performance. There will be 600 people in the performance and 300 men employed in operating the scenery and mechanical and trick effects. This is planned to be the greatest and most gorgeous spectacle ever presented in this country.

No attraction before the public contains more pretty and stylish girls than does the ever popular "McFadden's Row of Flats," which will be at The Kentucky tonight.

In making an especial effort this season to secure beauties for the chorus the management has had in mind the increasing desire of the public to see pretty and stylish women in the chorus, women who can wear fine costumes as they should be worn and women who can dance and sing with an understanding of what those arts mean. In the company are Lizzie Conway, Gussie Nelson, the celebrated Speck Brothers (the original Yellow Kids), Billy Barry, Jr., Jos. F. Willard, Harry Fentell and the Otto Brothers.

Shubert's company of clever artists, presenting Harry B. Smith's latest success, "A Girl From Dixie," comes to The Kentucky Wednesday, Nov. 2, for one night.

The Howard Stock Co. will open a five nights' engagement at The Kentucky next Monday night, with the four-act pastoral drama, "Down on the Farm." The company carries six clever specialty artists and numbers in all fifteen people. Its repertoire includes many new plays, never before presented in this city. Ladies will be admitted free Monday night under usual conditions. Prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. The seat sale opens Saturday morning at box office.

"At Cripple Creek" was presented to a large and well pleased house at the Kentucky theatre last night. There is no use talking, a whole lot of Paducah people like melodrama, and they were there last night, and got what they went after. "At Cripple Creek" is not new, but it is thrilling. The play is well put on by the company and the company is well cast, every part being cleverly played. The scenery is new and well adapted to the story, and is all carried by the company. In brief, "At Cripple Creek" is a first-class production of its kind, and well worth seeing. Fine work was done by Clinton E. Lydell, as "Joe Mayfield;" W. J. Baxter as "Martin Mason;" Frederick R. K. Seaton, as "Wauketa, the Indian;" Collin Varrey, as the "Mexican bad man;" Ted Leduc, as negro; Laura Hurlburt, as "Dynamite Ann;" Bess H. Dainty, as the "Pride of the Creek."

USELESS RUN

WATCHMAN MAKES AN UNUSUAL MISTAKE.

A night watchman at the plant of the Langstaff-Orme Mfg. Co., at Second and Adams street, caused an unnecessary run for the stationmen at department No. 1 last night at 12:45 p. m.

The watchman has a machine in the mill located near the alarm box which sends in an alarm to the western union station, and then to the fire department, and every hour or so has to pull a lever and punch the time he makes his rounds so his employers may see that he has been awake.

The watchman instead of pulling the record lever, pulled the alarm box and soon had the firemen at the mill, causing a long and useless run.

A NICE COMPLIMENT

Mr. David F. Atkins the inspector sent down by the supervising architect at Washington to inspect the improvements at the postoffice in his report on the plumbing says: This work is now complete in every detail in strict accordance with the requirements of the specifications and is a first class job in materials, workmanship, and finish, and a credit to the building and contractor. The plumbing was done by E. D. Hannan and he is much pleased with such a complimentary report.

A GREAT OUTPUT AT THE QUARRIES

Katterjohn Company is Breaking Records.

May Have to Shut Down Now to Wait for a New Valve for the Engine.

CANNOT BE SECURED HERE

Mr. Pat Halloran, of the Katterjohn Construction Company, at Cedar Bluff, was in the city this morning to attempt to secure a new check valve for a high pressure air drill, but was unsuccessful and will have to send to Tarrytown, N. Y., where the engine was made to secure the piece. Unless it arrives in a few days it will necessitate a shut down of the big stone quarries at the busiest time in the history of the plant.

"The drill has been working over time for many weeks," Mr. Halloran explained, "because of the necessity of getting out ballast for the Illinois Central. We have drilled out rock enough to last six days, but after this is all crushed we will have to shut down until we can get a new check valve for the high pressure side of the drill, as we have to drill the rock out before we can secure it for crushing. We think ten days will be sufficient to bring the valve from New York."

The valve, by the way, is no larger than a person's hand, but no machine shop in the city could make one, it being made of steel and has to fit within a small fraction of an inch in the engine.

The quarries are working the biggest force of laborers in the history of the plant and this month has been the biggest month so far ever recorded. Yesterday afternoon at the close of business the quarries had prepared for use 6,000 yards of screening and 25,000 yards of ballast. To a person unacquainted with the work this would not convey any idea of the work, but to those who do know realize that it is an enormous amount of rock to be crushed in a little over three weeks.

Mr. Halloran returned to Cedar Bluff this morning, after telegraphing the order to New York for a new valve, and will push the work of crushing the stone already drilled. A delay at this particular time will cause the company some little embarrassment as the Illinois Central is taking all the ballast the company can furnish.

DRANK LYE WATER

PAINFUL INJURY TO SON OF MR. JOSH STEIN.

The three-year-old son of Mr. Josh Stein, of West Clay street, foreman of the Sun composing room, yesterday afternoon attempted to drink concentrated lye water, and his mouth was badly burned.

The little fellow had been watching his mother do some cleaning about the house with the lye water, and when she set the can down and went into an adjoining room, picked the can up and took a mouthful of the water.

The little fellow is suffering a great deal from pain, but is not thought to be seriously injured.

THE RENAULT HEIRS TO CLAIM FORTUNE

Land They Have Their Eyes on Worth $400,000,000.

Miss Eugenia Clark, of Paducah, is One of the Descendants of the Renaults.

RENAULT DAY AT THE FAIR

Miss Eugenia Clark, of Paducah, read an original poem at St. Louis Wednesday on "Renault Day." A special dispatch to the Courier-Journal gives the following account of the celebration:

St. Louis, Oct. 26.--(Special).--The celebration of Renault day in the Kentucky building this afternoon brought together a very pleasant party of French people, descendants of the first explorer of the Mississippi River. Miss Eugenia Clark, of Paducah, was in charge of the arrangements and presided at the meeting held in the ladies' reception parlors on the second floor. Among the distinguished guests were M. George Gerahd, member of the French parliament and commissioner general to the world's fair; M. B. Faive, of Paris, France, and M. W. Lette, of Paris, France. Addresses on the life of Renault were delivered by Mr. Gerahd and Mr. Faive, the former as representative of the French republic and the latter representing the Renault family in France.

Miss Clark read her poem, entitled "Louisiana," which was applauded. The French families of St. Louis were represented by Mrs. Ernest C. Farley, Mrs. Pauline Renault, H. L. Reno, Mrs. James Richardson Wolkenwitz, Mrs. W. B. Lefebvre and Mrs. Lasusse, a great-granddaughter of M. Lasusse, who signed the Louisiana purchase transfer papers at the Cabildo in New Orleans in 1803.

Among the others present were Mrs.

A. C. Bowen and Mrs. Alice Bowen, of Louisville; Mrs. Mary Renault Clark, of Paducah; T. W. Renault and J. B. Renault, of Floyd, Tex.; J. T. Renault and I. N. Renault, of Golden, Tex.; E. G. Renault, of Greenville, Tex.; Herbert A. Renault, of Tulsa, I. T.; L. T. Renault, of Broken Bow, Neb.; Mrs. Bertha May Renault and J. P. Renault, of St. Charles, Mo., and T. W. Renault, of Houston, Tex.

In this connection a story of a big fight for a gigantic fortune to which the heirs lay claim, is told by the Globe-Democrat, and will be of interest here, as Miss Clark is one of the descendants, and should they be successful would with the remainder of the Clark family here, come in for an immense fortune:

As a result of the meeting of the Renault family yesterday afternoon in the Kentucky state building at the world's fair, one of the greatest land suits in the country, involving the title to the greater part of St. Louis, East St. Louis, Peoria, Ill., and the land surrounding Mine La Motte in Madison county, Mo., may be revived. The land is said to be worth $400,000,000 at present, and the family bases its claims on the validity of the old French and Spanish grants in the United States.

B. Faive, of Paris, France, who represents the French members of the Renault family, attended the meeting and will confer with J. P. Renault of St. Charles, Mo., today in an effort to trace the descent of the American and French families from the four brothers of Baron Phillip Francis Renault, the great explorer, to whom the grants were made. All that it needed to make the title clear, it is claimed, is to prove the ancestry of Renault's brothers, who were made heirs of the estate in the baron's will. The case was brought up in the United States courts about sixty years ago, and has since been carried on in a desultory way. The American members of the family could never prove their descent, but Faive thinks that he can supply the necessary information.

Faive is stationed at the exposition as a representative of the Renault automobile company of Paris. He was accompanied yesterday by Commissioner General George Gerahd of France, who named the day Renault day in honor of the family. He made an address, in which he spoke of the high standing of the Renault family in Paris and of the work of Phillip Renault in exploring the Mississippi country. About twenty persons were present, there being sixty members of the family in America. These are so scattered and have changed the original spelling of the name to such an extent that it is difficult to trace relationship.

The French branch was to have been represented at the meeting, but the death of Jean Renault, the automobilist, who was killed about four months ago in a collision while racing with Fournier in Paris, prevented any members from coming.

Phillip Renault was commissioned by Louis XIV. to explore the Mississippi valley. He had with him Pierre LaCade, the founder of St. Louis, and La Motte. LaCade was left behind at St. Louis and Renault proceeded up the Mississippi. He claimed all the land discovered for his sovereign, and on his return was given the four land grants named in recognition of his services. He never used the land, and in his will left it to his four brothers, as he died without issue. None of these heirs ever claimed the country, nor his grandnephew, Count Renault, who came to America with Lafayette.

The land changed hands with the whole Mississippi valley when that was granted to Spain by France, ceded back again and finally passed under control of the United States. The title of land grants under the French and Spanish kings remained valid throughout these transfers. When the land was finally claimed, about sixty years ago, by descendants of the original heirs, people had settled on it and had been paying taxes for years. The descent by marital records could never be conclusively proven and the title has remained undisturbed up to the present time.

QUICK WORK

IS THAT OF IMPROVING BROADWAY.

Yesterday five car loads of machinery for making the bitulithic compound and building the streets here, arrived over the Illinois Central and the work of improving Broadway is being pushed more than ever.

The stakes and forms for building the pavements are now and the bitulithic compound is getting all material and machinery ready for service before the excavating is finished.

The street car company has its ties laid on Broadway for double tracks where the excavating has been finished and everybody is working in unison and harmony. It is said by engineers and people acquainted with street work, that this job will be an example of quick street building.

LAWYER STRUCK BY A BARTENDER

Sensational Sequel to Mack Hern Case.

County Attorney Anderson Knocked Down Because of Cross Examination.

WAS RELEASED ON BOND

A sensational encounter took place in Hopkinsville yesterday as a result of the trial of Mack Hern, formerly of Paducah, for killing his father.

The New Era says: This morning, on Virginia street, near the postoffice, County Attorney Otho H. Anderson was assaulted by George Merritt, a bartender and a powerful athlete, who accused the lawyer of humiliating him in a trial in circuit court. On cross-examination, yesterday, Mr. Anderson asked young Mack Hern, charged with the murder of his father, if "Rose Merritt," who accompanied him to Hopkinsville from Paducah on the day of the tragedy, was not related to a woman who lives in a respectable part of the city. Hern had stated a few minutes before, during direct examination, that the girl was kin to respectable citizens here. The trouble between Hern and his father, culminating in the fatal shooting, is said to have grown out of the young man's taking the girl to his father's home and introducing her to his sister and stepmother. This morning Merritt upbraided the county attorney for calling the girl Merritt instead of Emmett, the name of her divorced husband, and then knocked the attorney down. Mr. Anderson says he was dealt three terrific blows, and that he had no chance to defend himself, having a bundle of laundry in his hands and not expecting the assault. Merritt surrendered. He was released on bond to appear before City Judge night this afternoon. He will be prosecuted, it is stated, for assaulting a public officer.

GOING SOUTH.

THE ANNUAL MOVEMENT OF SHANTY BOATS IS WELL UNDER WAY.

The near approach of winter is driving the shanty boatmen to ports further south. For the past two weeks the bosom of the Ohio has been dotted by the little shanties, which may be seen floating with the current toward climes where the temperature is less severe, and where its occupants may more profitably ply their trade of fishing, for the larger per cent. of them are fishermen.

In the early spring months the course of the shanty-boats is northward. They come from southern waters, towed up by steamers, and anchor at all the river towns. At this season of the year they cut loose and move with the current back to the lower Ohio, and many of them to the Mississippi, where they find a refuge in the mouth of some tributary creek or small stream, there to remain until the tides of ice break in the coming spring. Many of these small craft anchored in the vicinity of Paducah last spring, and they are now leaving rapidly. Many have cut loose from their moorings above and below the city in the past few days and are now on their way to sunnier climes.

CURES WINTER COUGH.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got for her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stop the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Dulbois, Kolb & Co.

PURCHASED NEW MACHINERY.

Miss Eleanor Trezevant has returned from St. Louis, where she purchased new machinery for the Paducah Toilet and Laundry Company, of which she is president. The machinery will be installed in time for operations by December 1.

REDUCING THE ARMY.

Said Judge Parker in a speech last week:

"The inquiry is made by the administration whether we would dare to reduce the cost of the army.

"Most assuredly we would, and we ask the people to decide between the administration and the democratic contention on that point." * * * A large standing army is unnecessary unless militarism is to become our policy."

In the first place, Judge Parker and his supporters are invited to place at the following figures of the principal armies of the world:

ARMIES OF THE WORLD.

Peace. War.

Countries. Footing. Footing.

Russia, 896,000 3,440,000

Germany, 605,000 3,000,000

France, 547,515 2,500,000

British Empire, 742,421 1,271,970

Austria, 358,211 1,851,523

Italy, 251,984 2,014,267

China, 300,000 1,600,000

Turkey, 150,020 900,000

Japan, 284,741 632,007

Argentina, 313,918 480,000

Spain, 183,972 400,000

Persia, 105,500 350,000

United States, 63,686 200,000

Not only is our army the smallest by far of any great power, but it is smaller relatively than in the days of Washington and Jefferson. There is now an army of about 60,000 men to take care of the interests of 80,000,000 of people, or one soldier to every 1,400 people. In discussing this point in his letter of acceptance, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"If our opponents should come into power they could not reduce our army below its present size without greatly impairing its efficiency and abandoning part of the national duty. In short, in this matter, if our opponents should come into power, they would either have to treat this particular promise of the year 1904 as they now treat the promise they made in 1896 and 1900; that is, as possessing no binding force, or else they would have to embark on a policy which would be ludicrous at the moment, and fraught with grave danger to the national honor in the future."

THE TARIFF.

An able writer in the Louisville Herald this clearly explains the tariff, and describes the dangers that would result from changes:

"If a radical change in our foreign influence and prestige is brought about by victory of the democratic party in November, every laboring man in the United States must count upon a curtailment of American exports and a corresponding curtailment of wages and the output of factories, shops and mines. It will be a jump into the dark for the laboring man to vote against Roosevelt.

And so we might argue convincingly that the manufacturer and the capitalist must stand firmly for the success of Roosevelt, because the growth of foreign markets means added returns to the investment of the manufacturer and the capitalist. The $2,000,000,000 which is approximately the value of our foreign export trade includes at least 60 per cent of the whole as wages. When,

therefore, it is realized that $1,200,000,- 000 is thus divided annually among the laboring men in this country, it can be appreciated that the republican party is serving the interests of the laborer while striving in all legitimate ways to increase our trade and prestige abroad."

If the Russian Baltic fleet wanted to destroy life and property without cause,

it had countless opportunities to do so before the English fishing vessels were encountered. Besides, the fact that one of the fishing vessels was hit is prima facie evidence that the Russians were not shooting at it.

The Standard Oil company denies that it takes any part in politics, but Thomas

W. Lawson, of Boston, reassures that it does, and says that McCarren, one of the men who helped nominate Parker, has been on the pay roll of the Standard Oil company for years.

The peaceful British do not seem to be looking for peace very hard. They need to go to a few more peace conferences.

One Young Lady Gets $400 Damages for Injuries.Jury In Another Case Gives the Plaintiff $75—La Center Case on Trial.

A SMALL POLICE COURT

Miss Nona Darnell this morning was given a judgment against the Paducah City Railway Company for $400, for damages sustained in the Ninth and Jackson street car accident.
The case will be appealed by the defense.In the case of C. B. Lescher against the Illinois Central Railroad Company, in which Lescher was given damages amounting to $100, the defense filed a motion with reasons for a new trial.This morning the case of George Johnson against the Paducah Lumber dry Company was brought up again and a verdict for the defense returned on peremptory instructions.Johnson fell into a vat of boiling water in the rear of the laundry where he had no business to be, and sued for $10,000 damages. The case will be appealed to the court of appeals by the plaintiff.Attorneys Hendrick & Miller are for the plaintiff, Mootcot & Quigley for the defense.The suit of B. B. Davis against Mrs. Irene Gardner, for furnishing plans for a residence, was dismissed.
The plaintiff in the case of C. C.
Scott, against the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing Company, was given a judgment for $325 damages.A judgment for $75 was filed in the case of G. W. Rudd against T. A.
Heras & Company.The case of George Meadows against Givens-Clark & Company was dismissed without prejudice by the plaintiff. He was arrested and sued for damages on false arrest grounds.At press time the case of the Fraternal Construction Company of La Center, Ky., against the Jackson Foundry & Machine Company was on trial.It is alleged by the plaintiff that the defendant made pillars to support the front of the Fraternity building at La Center and that the pillars were defective and broke, tumbling down the building.The jury in the case of Geneva Lam against the Paducah City Railway Company resulted in a verdict for $75 damages. She sued for $1,000 for damages sustained in a street car wreck at Ninth and Jackson streets last summer when a depot line car ran into a Jackson street car.The attorneys for the defense in their speech claimed that they did not know the young lady was injured but would concede the accident was due to the fault of the defense, and the only question to decide was if the young lady was injured. The street car company had no record of the injury; did not know if a doctor had been had and in fact knew nothing of the alleged injury until the suit for damages was filed. A compromise of $25 was offered but refused.The evidence showed that the young lady was knocked off the seat by the jar, thrown on the floor on her back and that the motorman sat down on her head. Her hip, knee and head were bruised and she suffered a severe

Whatever Judge Parker's purpose may have been in bringing up again the Philippine question against the advice of his staunchest supporters in the metropolitan press and great Democratic papers of the country, such as the New York Times and New York Herald and Brooklyn Eagle, he has at least succeeded in putting some ginger in the campaign in the Philippines. It is said that his speech has already been translated into several languages and is being widely circulated among the natives with the object of stirring them into further insurrection and to incite discontent at a time when they were quite willing to submit to the splendid order and system established by Secretary Taft and his successor.It is quite probable that the Parker campaign in the Philippines will be eminently successful. We may hear of a few lives being lost, and should it happen that a dozen such sacrifices be made the judge will be readily able to magni-fy it into a few thousands. He may be as successful in this as was Mr. Bryan four years ago, who promised independence and everything else to the Filipinos in case of his election. Judge Parker may make quite a stir over there and perhaps a few days before election the Democratic managers will have at least an issue to lay before the voters of the country to the effect that the natives are in a state of insurrection surpassing anything before attempted. The judge may think this a very effective card to play at this stage of the game, but he will find that where he makes one trick in the Philippine Islands, he will lose many more at home. The game is lost anyway, and the flag will never be hauled down by Judge Parker or any

HARD COLLISION FROM HEAVY FOG

Two I. C. Trains Met in Yards With Little Damage.

Conductor Wilkins Was Thrown Against a Stove But Escaped Serious Injury.

ENGINES SOMEWHAT DAMAGED

Heavy fogs are interfering with railroading in the Paducah yards of both the I. C. and N. C. & St. L. roads, and one accident has already occurred the result of the heavy fog, and other accidents were narrowly averted.

This morning about 7 o'clock, as a result of the fog, the second section of freight train No. 152, in charge of Conductor C. W. Wilkins and Engineer Ed. Greif, and the mixed local freight and passenger train, in charge of Conductor Flack and Engineer Les Robertson, had a head-on collision at the old dispatching office in the south yards, the accident being due to the heavy fog.

Both pilots of the engines were smashed off and Conductor Wilkins was thrown against a stove in his caboose and his head was cut and bruised slightly, but no one was seriously hurt.

The 152 was coming in from the south and heading towards the shops, when the local was coming from the shops headed south. The freight was pulled by engine No. 680 and the local by engine No. 619, and both engines came together with force sufficient to smash the pilots and derail the front trucks of the 680. The local had to return to the shops for another engine and it required nearly an hour to place the derailed engine on the rails.

The damage will amount to little, and Wilkins was not injured enough to prevent his continuing his duties.

The fog was so heavy that neither engineer could see the other until the engines were only a few feet apart. They were running slow which prevented a serious smashup.

The N. C. & St. L. road works, but comparatively few switch engines, but yesterday morning came near running into an open switch and into a string of box cars and hand cars. The fog is so heavy that the switchmen can not see the engine until it is right upon them, and the engineer cannot see his crew.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty-cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00. GOOD EXHIBITS

KENTUCKY MAY CAPTURE PRIZES AT POULTRY SHOW.

Kentucky Building, World's Fair, St. Louis, Oct. 28.—Kentucky exhibitors are expecting to win several prizes at the World's Poultry and Pigeon Show, at the live-stock forum, in the west of the exposition grounds. W. S. Hendren and W. B. Burford, of Nicholasville, and R. E. Jones, of Paducah, have brought over some of their fanciest fowls, with the hope of winning a number of blue ties, while R. H. Young, Harry Hoffman and Louis Korb, all of Louisville, are making good displays of pigeons.

MR. DAVIS SHOWS HIS AGE.
(Washington Correspondence of the Boston Transcript.)

Members of the notification committee and the correspondents and onlookers who have returned from White Sulphur Springs, where Mr. Davis was informed of his nomination, make no secret of the astounding evidence there displayed of the pathetic mistake which the party made in filling its second place on the ticket. While only Democratic newspapers sent correspondents there, and the press association dispatches were necessarily colorless on this point, the actual happenings were of a most disquieting character. Mr. Davis started out to read his speech which he had in manuscript before him, but whether from defective eyesight or from nervousness, he soon abandoned this effort and trusted to memory. This failed him badly. The actual speech delivered touched upon every topic covered in the one sent out in advance for the occasion, but very clumsily. For example, the speech itself contained a carefully prepared expression on the labor question. This was an afterthought, not in the original draft, but prepared on Tuesday at the advice of friends. When he came to this part of the speech all he could remember was that some people thought the Republican party had been good to labor, but that he could tell everybody that it was better to trust the Democratic party. His blunders in the use of English and in the choice of words, as shown by private shorthand notes, were too pathetic to be repeated. One Democratic observer summarized the situation by saying that "no human being could parse a single sentence of Mr. Davis' speech as he had delivered it, after abandoning his effort to follow the manuscript."

The ceremonies opened with expressions of bitter scorn of Elmer Root for so far forgetting himself in the Fairbanks notification as to point out the frailties of old age as a disqualification for the vice presidency. Williams in his speech of notification alluded to this in fact a favorite topic among the speculators, but one that was by common consent dropped after Davis' speech began, was Root's vindication close upon the heels of his attack. Any plans which were in contemplation for presenting the vice presidential candidate in the leading cities of the country during the campaign were then and there absolutely abandoned. Physically Mr. Davis is a marvel, his eyes are bright, his step elastic; he seems strong and in personal conversation appears perfectly keen. His instinct in business affairs is undimmed. It seems to be only in the matters involving education, such as public questions, that he goes to pieces, and this is easily accounted for by the fact that he never enjoyed the advantages of early education, and it was quite late in life before he acquired any knowledge of statecraft. His speaking was frightful when a senator. Naturally in advancing years he weakens first on the things which were an acquisition of middle life, and not "bred in the bone." Hence his difficulties in getting the right word are not to be wondered at. The term of office for which he is now a candidate will expire when he is in his 80th year.

WORLD'S FAIR RATES.

Commencing September 18th and until November 30th, round trip tickets to St. Louis will be sold for $5.31, good returning 7 days after date of sale. These tickets will be honored only in coaches, and will not be good in sleeping cars.

ADVICE TO FIRST VOTERS

A Young Man Who Values His First Vote "Next to His Life" Wants Help in Deciding.

The Answer Gives Six Good Reasons Why He Should Be a Republican and Stay One.

The Question.

23 Water Street, Newburg, N. Y., Sept. 23, 1904.

Dear Sir—I write hoping you will find time to answer and enlighten me as to how I should vote this coming election. It will be my first vote for president, and I value it next to my life, for it means either a full or empty dinner pail to me. I have tried hard to find some sound conviction by reading the daily journals, but apparently they are striving to see which one can lie most sordidly in their criticisms of party and candidate; therefore I appeal to you for some sound reasons why I should vote the Republican ticket, and wish to add that with all my strength and mind I endorse your president in maintaining the army and navy and the progressive government we have enjoyed for the past eight years. Hoping the best candidate will win, I remain sincerely,

JOSEPH L. COLEMAN.

The Answer.

Oct. 6, 1904.

My Dear Sir—Your favor of recent date stating that at the coming election you will cast your first presidential vote and asking for some good reasons why you should vote the Republican ticket has been referred to me for answer.

The reasons are many and strong why you should "start right" by voting the Republican ticket, yet it is impossible within the limits of an ordinary letter to state even briefly all of them. Here are a few of them:

First.—You should vote the Republican ticket because the record of that party for the fifty years of its existence has been so uniformly honorable and consistent that it is today a crown of glory to every man to say that it was one of its founders and has continued to act with it to this day. It is a privilege to any young man to come into such an inheritance. No other party has existed in our country for that length of time but its honorable members have at some time or other been obliged to admit that its principles were vicious and its candidates unworthy of its support.

Second.—You should vote the Republican ticket because that party was organized to make this the land of free men, free soil and free speech. Having accomplished its purpose, it is the party best fitted to preserve them.

Third.—You should vote the Republican ticket because the party is opposed to free trade and free silver and has consistently stood for protection to both labor and capital.

Fourth.—You should vote the Republican ticket because a man is known by the company he keeps, and no man is in bad company who is a member of the party of Fremont and Lincoln and Grant and McKinley and Roosevelt. All good men are not Republicans, nor are all Republicans good men, but the vast majority of Republicans are men of good repute. Look about in your own community and see whether this it not true.

Fifth.—You should vote the Republican ticket because its candidates now, as in the past, are honest, able and courageous men. As has been said, what more could any mother and father ask than that their son should follow the same high ideals as Theodore Roosevelt has followed and live the same honorable, loyal, pure life as he has been?

Sixth.—You should vote the Republican ticket because that party is distinctly the young man's party, for its future offers so much of promise for the upbuilding of the honor and glory of our country. If you wish to take part in this work, if you like to be doing things, if you are progressive, if you are ambitious for your own betterment and that of your native land, if you wish the world to be better for your having lived, then you should line up with the Republican party. If, on the other hand, you are always looking backward, always carping at what others do and afraid of the future and fearful that our country may become too great, then there is no place in the Republican party for you.

Vote the Republican ticket from top to bottom, and then on election night when the returns are announced you can throw up your hat and say, "I helped win the day." Sincerely yours,

CHARLES H. DUELL.

Mr. Joseph L. Coleman, 23 Water Street, Newburg, N. Y.

Pure Buncombe.

[From the New York Tribune.] The Democratic party's promise to enforce "economy in expenditures" and to return to "Jeffersonian simplicity in office" is the purest buncombe. It is a glittering generality, a mere rhetorical extravagance; it is a pledge impossible of fulfillment, a pledge nullified by contrary party pledges more binding because more specific. In the Democratic platform itself this conflict of professions is obvious and glaring. Vague exhortations to "economy" are made ridiculous by an utter failure to indicate specific lines along which economies are desirable or practicable.

WHY APPENDICITIS?

Why is appendicitis so common today?

Because we have got into the pernicious habit of eating too fast.

Dr. Curtis, the great authority on this disease, says: "Appendicitis often follows the eating of a very hasty, or particularly large or indigestible meal."

After carelessly following a foolish custom, you can insure your safety by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

It is an accepted scientific truth, which admits of no dispute, that if you will only keep your digestive apparatus in good order, you will never suffer from this dread disease, which at best, means a weakening operation, with long weeks wasted in bed, and big doctor's and surgeon's bills to pay as souvenirs.

Keep your appendix in health by the proper use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, whenever you have laid yourself open to danger by overeating, and upon the least sign of stomach or intestinal trouble, for otherwise, at any time, this dangerous disease may lay you low.

The curative influence of this great medicine is quickly shown in the gentle, soothing effect it has on all inflamed conditions of any part of the digestive tract.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets tone all these parts up to a proper condition of perfect health, and regulate their functions to a proper working state.

They also make away with all the causes of irritation, inflammation or indigestion, by helping to dissolve, digest and assimilate, or put to proper use, all the food which is lying around in odd corners of your digestive apparatus, fermenting, rotting and curdling, like so much garbage in a dirty sink.

In these natural and perfectly simple ways, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets restore all sufferers, from any form of dyspeptic trouble, to health.

They are safe and reliable. They never fail to relieve and cure, quickly and permanently.

Use them, and you need never worry about your appendix verminiformis.

RIVES

"You hated him!" she blazed at him. "Oh, I know how you would creep and creep! My friend," turning to Henry—"my friend, do you believe this?"

Henry got up with a ground oath. "No," he swore. "By the great day, I do not believe it!"

Her fluttering cry of delight was still by Colonel Tillotson's tense whisper, "Hark!" There was a dull drum of hoofs thudding over sod and with it Sweetlips' fierce challenge.

Simultaneously came a wall of terror from the kitchen, and Haskieigh plunged in from the hall, his woolly head shaking with fear.

"The soldiers! De soldiers!" he screamed. "Mars' John, dee gwine kill y'all!"

Jarrat rose to his feet. "You know how I can creep and creep, mistress?" he said. "Well, then, now you shall see how I can strike!"

Anne had rushed instantly to the window and drawn the blind. "Troopers!" she cried. "The house is being surrounded! You have been pursued, Louis!"

"Twas true then!" frothed Colonel Tillotson. "Jarrat, had I a weapon I would shoot you, I swear to God! There is one way, Patrick. Here, quick! Through this hall and to the buttery! There is a small window! Speed, and God send you get safe away!"

As Henry disappeared Jarrat ran from the door, shouting directions to the soldiery.

"Louis!" gasped Anne. "You must go! Take the same way, quick!"

"Wait!" he said. "I must give something into your care—something important! Promise me you will do with it what I ask!"

"Yes, yes; but haste, haste!"

He had taken a packet from his breast. "This, much depends upon it. It must be carried to Philadelphia and there given to Dr. Benjamin Franklin. You must tell him to hold it till called for."

"I will carry it. He shall have it from my own hands. I bear them on the porch. For my own sake go!"

"Swear to me!"

"I swear by all I love—by my love for you."

"And you will trust me?"

"Always, always! Oh, can you wait while they take you?"

"Kiss me!"

"Ah!"

He strained her to him once and sprang toward the door through which Henry had fled. But as he reached it Jarrat's form stood framed in the doorway. His hand held a pistol. At the same moment the room overflowed with men.

"No ho!" he smiled redly over white teeth. "Not so sprightly, eh? Well, the other bird has flown—these horses' pounding!—and we must be content with you, I suppose. Lieutenant, I put this courier in your care. An he gets off as did Patrick Henry, some one shall suffer for it. Nay, mistress, run not to him. Rather give me the packet which the entertaining gentleman gave into your care a moment since. I doubt not its contents will interest us all. It may even hold his patent of nobility."

Anne's hands flew to her breast, and she shrank back as Jarrat advanced upon her.

"You ruffian!" raged Colonel Tillotson, beside himself with anger. "An you or your bloody-backs lay finger on my niece!"

"Heroes are misplaced, colonel," answered Jarrat curtly. "Will you give up that paper, mistress?"

A quick light came to the girl's eyes, gazing past him. Fumbling in her dress, she drew forth the packet and held it out. But as he extended an arm to seize it she drew back and hurried it over his head through the dining room door, where huddled Mammy Evaline and the rest of the kitchen servants in a shivering group.

"Bonella!" she screamed. "Take it, Bonella! Run! Hide it! Run!" The redemptioner woman swooped upon the packet and was away like a hare.

"Clumsy fools!" foamed Jarrat as the soldiers banged at the door catch. "After her and bring her here!"

ed and cried out with pain. At the second a line of red started through the coarse ozenabrig.

Jarrat leaned and looked into her face. "I not tell you?" she wavered. "I'll have the king's law on you for this," the colonel hurled between his teeth.

Armand had remained quiet, but as the stroke fell twice again he trembled. The woman's lips were tight together. "No, no, no!" she said between them. "I not tell you! I not tell you—never!"

"Curse her!" Jarrat gasped furiously. "Lay on, there, you! I say I'll have it out of her!"

The wielder of the rawhide paused to tuck up his sleeve. The men who held her relaxed their hold for an instant, and she sank down on the floor with closed eyes.

"They will kill her!" sobbed Anne, clutching her uncle's arm. "They will kill her!"

"Stand her up again!" commanded Jarrat.

Armand had grown very white. At Anne's sob he strained forward in the grasp of the soldiers and cried: "Tell him! I command you to tell him!"

The woman opened her eyes, looked at him searchingly and uncertainly, then smiled and tried to shake her head. "I not—tell."

"They dragged her roughly up again, but her legs would not support her. She seemed not to hear Jarrat's shouted question in her ear. He looked at Anne in the reaction felt her gaze upon Armand, erect between the soldiers, swish with tears. How could he stand so calm? And with the thought she felt a sudden shame for her weakness.

"The wench has had her run," grumbled one of the soldiers as they returned with the redemptioner woman. "She hasn't it on her. She's tucked it away somewhere."

EVANSVILLE VERY ANXIOUS TO JOIN

Will Try to Get Into the K. I. T. League.

The Evansville Courier Gives the Facts Relative to the Situation.

A NATIONAL BALL CHANGE

It seems likely that M. J. Farnbaker, secretary of the Kitty League will pay a visit to Evansville in the near future to investigate the chances for putting a club of his league in this city next season, says the Evansville Courier. It is understood that several who have backed Central league teams in the past think favorably of the project of taking up a "Kitty" League franchise here.

At the next meeting of the K. I. T. magnates in Vincennes in January, the circuit committee will propose a circuit to be composed of Evansville, Vincennes and Washington, Ind., Cairo and Marion, Ill., and Paducah, Ky.

As non-playing members will be Henderson and Hopkinsville, Ky., and Clarksville, Tenn. The membership of these last three cities will be merely for the purpose of protecting their reserved players, so they can realize financial benefits upon the young players they have developed, and several of whom have been sold or drafted.

Should the circuit, as proposed, go through, the additional population of the new cities included would place the K. I. T. league in class C, the same as the Central league. The Kitty officials think the proposed circuit is an ideal one, as it permits of short jumps and thus decreases railroad fare. It is proposed also to change the name of the league from the K. I. T. to the Interstate.

As matters now stand, the Kitty league cannot grant a franchise to Evansville. The Central league still recognizes Evansville as a member of its circuit, and regards the franchise surrendered to them as still being retained in this city. Under the ruling of the National Association of Baseball leagues, a league is not allowed to place a team within five miles of a city where another league holds a franchise. Consequently until the Central league franchise, now regarded as being held here, is transferred to some other city, the K. I. T. league cannot gain entrance to Evansville.

A New York dispatch says: "The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues ordered a new class to be known as A. In the past fees for drafting players from the four classes, A, B, C, D, were $500, $300 and $250. If the national commission approves of the action taken today fees for drafting from AA down to class D will be $1,500, $1,000, $750, $500 and $400, respectively, and AA will be composed of the American Association, the Pacific Coast League and the Eastern League and class A of the Southern and Western Leagues. All were formerly in class A, except the Southern League, which has advanced from class B."

THE BEST DOCTOR.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Texas, writes, July 19th, 1899: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

MANY DUCKS KILLED.

Sportsmen about the city are daily going up the Tennessee and Ohio rivers after ducks which they say are found in plentiful numbers. Last Sunday an Illinois Central employe fond of duck hunting, went up the Tennessee river in a skiff with two companions and saw several boat loads of hunters all with game bags well filled. The ducks are beginning to arrive and this sport will be at its height in a few weeks.

WENT TO ILLINOIS.

Myers Brown, colored, who is said to have had a fully developed case of smallpox, has left the city and gone to Illinois to keep from going to the pest house. He was found in the Kahn yard Monday and when the pest house keeper went after him had disappeared, and it was learned crossed over into Illinois.

Had all the Symptoms of Bright's Disease.

Mr. I. N. Poole, proprietor of one of the best barber shops in Muncie, Ind., has words of praise for Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure. He writes Dr. Fenner:

"I have taken several bottles of your Kidney and Backache Cure, have used many other kinds of so-called kidney cures, but none are to be compared with Dr. M. M. Fenner's, as all others have failed and Dr. Fenner's has completed a cure. I had been troubled with kidney disease for many months; some doctors thought I had Bright's Disease as I had all the symptoms, but I took your advice and now I am a well man. Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00.

What People Say of the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

PADUCAH, Ky., March 5, 1903.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I was a sufferer with indigestion for five years and could get no relief until I bought one bottle of Shoffner's Sure Cure, and it helped me so much that I took six bottles and it has cured me sound and well, thanks to the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

Mrs. JOHN SMEDLEY, 806 S. Third St.

If after using one bottle according to directions you are not benefited, your money will be refunded.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

ALL OVER A NAME.
Newport, Ky., Oct. 28.—When a town is not plentifully supplied with horse wagons, those vehicles are likely to be regarded as sacred. So, it is in Bellevue, which is just establishing the nucleus of a fire department. As a result of the stormy council meeting Councilman Keefer was fined $2 in the police court. The prosecuting witness, the chief of police, saw the heinous crime committed. The councilmen admitted the deed, and explained that he thought the wagon still in the hands of the committee of council, and not yet public property. There will be an effort made to expel Keefer from the Board of Councilmen. His honor's name will be restored.

HAS SKIPPED OUT.
Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 28.—Charles Rodgers, wanted in Caldwell county to answer a charge of horse stealing, and who was in this county for several days and had defied the officers of the law, is reported to have left the county. The officers were making preparations to take him, regardless of consequences, owing to the threats he had made. Officers have notified officials of other counties of his reported departure.

MAMMOTH CAVE SUIT.
Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 28.—The long pending controversy between the majority owners of the Mammoth Cave estate and the surviving trustees has been settled through the appointment by Special Judge C. U. McElroy of Mr. R. Wells, of Covington, president of the Citizens' Bank, of this city, and Mr. Albert Covington Janin, of Washington, as additional trustees to represent the majority interest. Another branch of the controversy, involving the settlement of the account of Henry O. Ganter, has resulted in the vindication of Mr. Ganter and the award to him, by Special Commissioner John B. Rodes, of a considerable sum of money due him for his services as manager of the estate. Throughout the controversy Mr. Ganter appears to have had the support of the majority owners of the property.

BESS MUST HANG.
Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 28.—The death sentence given in the Fayette circuit court to J. W. Bess for the murder of Mrs. Martha McQuinn Martin was upheld by the court of appeals yesterday. This was the second appeal of the case, the lower court having twice sentenced Bess to be hanged. The reversal before by the higher court was because of errors in the trial court. The chief ground urged on this appeal for reversal was that statements by appellant in his testimony on the first trial were proved against him on his second trial, at which he did not take the stand. The court says that this was not error, as the testimony was voluntarily given by Bess. The crime for which Bess must pay the penalty of his life was committed in March, 1903. The body of Mrs. Martin was found in the city reservoir near Lexington on March 10. She had been strangled to death and the body thrown into the water.

A SUDDEN ENDING.
Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 28.—The attorney for the defense in the trial of Mack Horn, charged with the murder of his father, James Horn, secured a continuance of the case yesterday after two days consumed, on account of Frank Graves, one of the main witnesses, being too ill to testify. The prosecution had completed taking direct testimony, and two of the witnesses had been examined for the defense. The case was set for seventh day of February term of court.

MAGNER BAUK.
Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 28.—Jim Magner, a Paducah blacksmith, who lost his mind from hard drinking and was sent to the asylum, escaped from the institute a few days ago, and was captured in Evansville. He was returned here.

WHERE IS PHELPS?

WELL KNOWN JERREAL FOOD MAN OF BATTLE CREEK DISAPPEARS.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 28.—Neil S. Phelps, well known in cereal food business and builder of Phelps Sanatorium, has been missing since Sunday and sensational rumors have been set afloat by his disappearance. Within the last two years Phelps had made and lost a fortune. A year ago his creditors agreed to refrain from interfering with him and his business for one year, the agreement running until November 4, 1904. His family believe he is a victim of foul play. Phelps was last seen on the bridge which crosses a mill race. This fact led the police to have the mill race emptied and a search was made of nearby lakes. But no trace of Phelps has been discovered.

IN BAD SHAPE

IS FOOT OF A YOUNG MAN WHO WAS KICKED.

Mr. Arthur Glass, a young man residing near the Illinois Central shops, is suffering from blood poisoning, the result of a horse kick two weeks ago. He was kicked by a horse on the right shin and the injury developed into blood poisoning, the young man not giving it the proper medical attention. This morning Dr. D. T. Stuart was called and after an examination stated the foot was in a very bad shape.

TAINTED BLOOD

Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1903.
Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a ruddy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything put before me, and as I regained my appetite I increased in weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self. I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine. VICTOR STUBBINS, Cor. Barthman and Washington Aves.

Wheeling, W. V., May 28, 1903.
My system was run down and my joints ached and pained me considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and have taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleared and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic. JOHN C. SMITH, 1533 Market St.
